

my JOURNEY

They say every great journey begins with one small step. This is my journey, and I've taken that step. It's a path of discovery, full of surprise and wonder, with opportunity everywhere, and talented people to guide the way. You discover the turns to make, and the road is built beneath you.

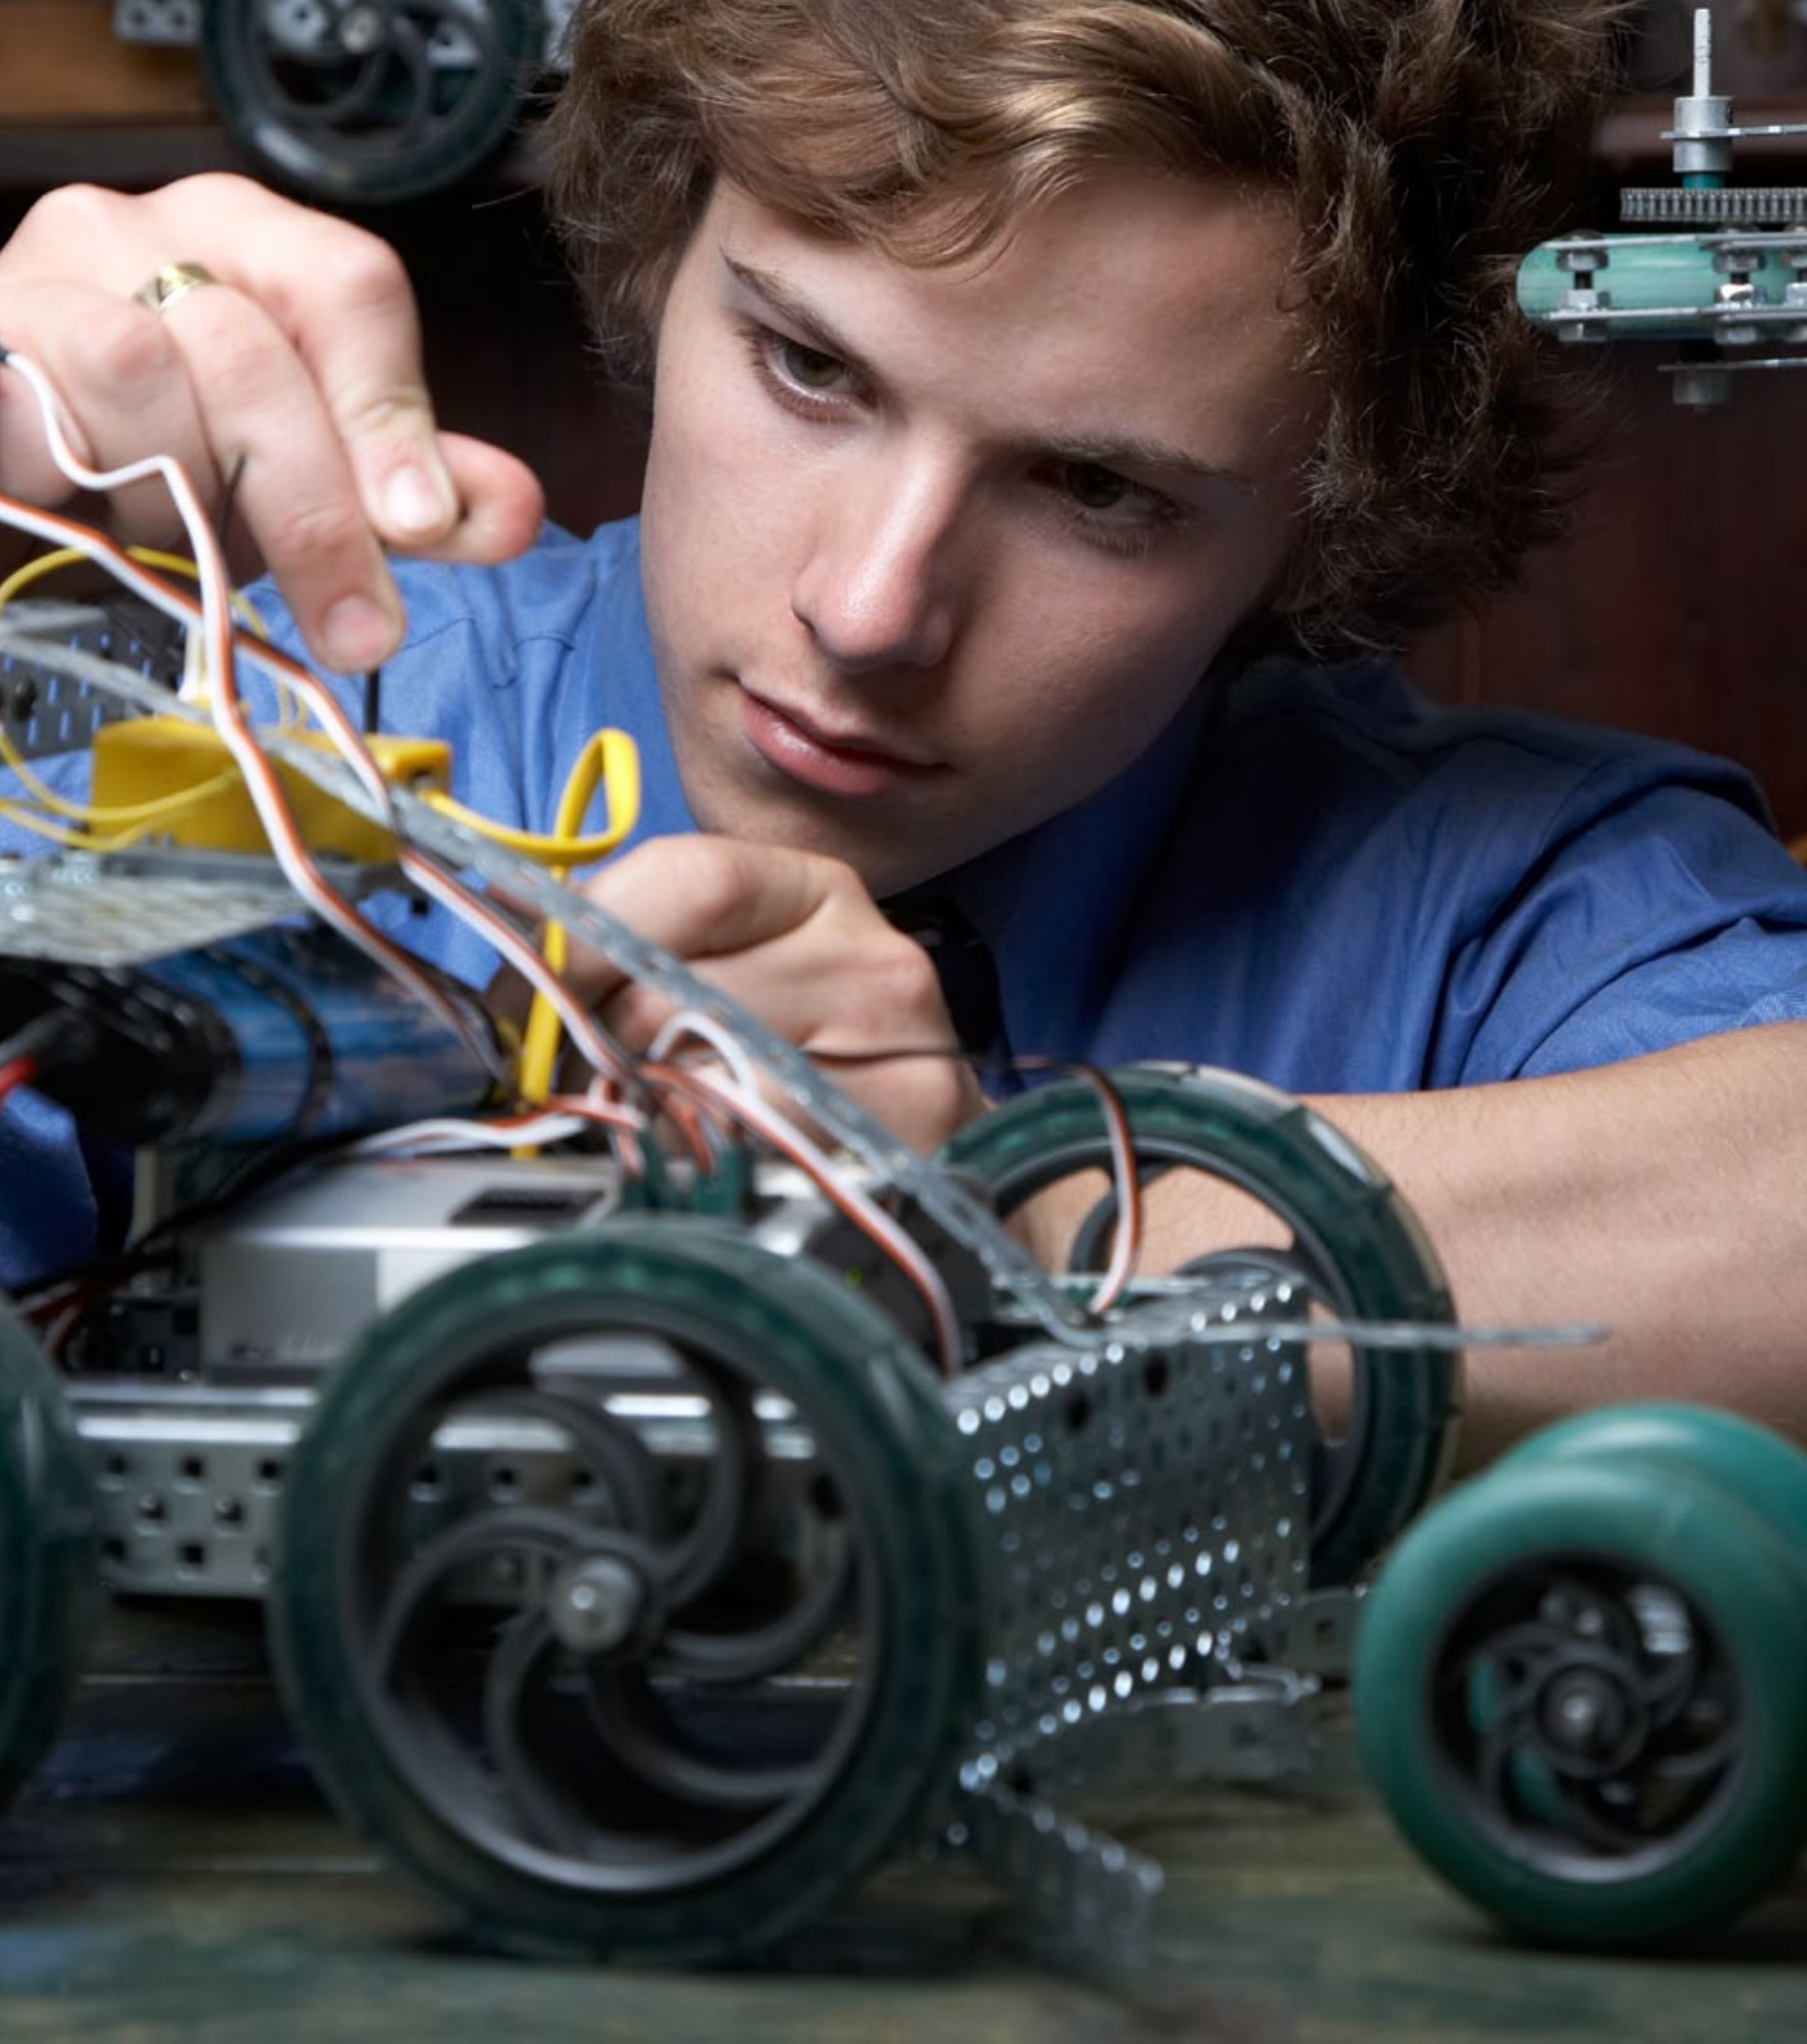

Curiosity is where it begins. Someone has to spark it, open the door. What am I discovering? My own perspective. I'm seeing the world through my own eyes. With confidence and purpose, I'm heading toward my dreams. And yes, most of all, I am discovering myself.

DISCOVERY

It's right in front of me. Not just one choice, but a world of choices. It's about taking risks, going farther, stepping out of your comfort zone. About freedom and responsibility. Can the challenges be met? Will I choose to be great? With support behind me, the road gets paved with achievements, great and small. And the future suddenly becomes a present. I've made my choice; now it's your turn.

CHOICE

my THING

There's no need to blend in. I'm accepted for who I am, and you will be too. We're kids, going places with some help along the way. The guides are encouraging, lending a hand. Something special happens when you explore the possibilities. So the choice is simple. I'm free to do my thing.

my VOICE

They say follow your heart, and they're right. With passion as your guide, you follow every idea. They see an athlete. You find an artist. A poet. What gives you purpose? What is your calling? You are a work in progress. You write your own story. You imagine many endings, and they're all possible. They believe in you here. You learn where to look. You're able to find your own voice.

my WORK

The work is challenging and deep. Teachers and students share a common purpose: the joy of learning. I'm setting goals, mastering skills, acquiring knowledge, thinking critically and creatively. All the while I'm discovering new viewpoints. We're a team, in this together.

A photograph of three young men in dark suits and light-colored shirts. They are looking towards the left of the frame with serious, focused expressions. The man in the foreground is slightly out of focus, while the man in the middle ground is sharper. The background is blurred.

my TEAM

I live and work and study with my team. They help me find my talents and strengths. We learn about effort and practice, so we can soar and excel. We're a group of individuals rooting as one. For each other. But this team knows no season, and with their support, I succeed.

my FAMILY

Not many families have 150 brothers, or 38 parents. We're different shapes and colors and sizes, and we come from many places. Sometimes there's noise and chaos, and we've been known to disagree. But that's when real learning occurs. At the end of the day, we're all together, a family sharing news and views. And yes, with so many of us at the table, sometimes we run out of chairs.

my SELF

I am comfortable with who I am, and who I'm becoming. A guy others can count on for courage and truth. Responsibility, and random acts of kindness, too. I can see the big picture. I know wherever I'm headed, there's a strong foundation in place. I've got the skills to seek solutions and the passion and patience to implement them. I'm ready to step out into the world.

my PLACE

This is about me, and the person I can be. From here, I can see the road unfolding, and I know I'm prepared. I can navigate the turns and handle the bumps. I have my team, and my family, and my voice. I know that learning is a never ending journey. I'm ready for my next big thing, for college and beyond. I can take my place in the world.
